

ROBBIE SCHAEFER

Songs For Kids Like Us

“Bring your own singing voice—belly laughs are on the house!”
Wolf Trap Children’s Theatre-in-the-Woods

For over a decade Robbie Schaefer has played guitar and sung with the other adults in his band, “Eddie From Ohio.” But his favorite musicians to play with are about 30 years younger.

Which is why he spent four years teaching music at Wesley Preschool in Vienna, VA.

And three summers at U.S. Kids in Washington, D.C.

And Summer 2004 performing at the prestigious Wolf Trap Children’s Theatre-in-the-Woods.

And played to sold out crowds at Washington D.C. area venues and children’s festivals around the country.

What do Robbie and his favorite earthlings do when they get together? They sing songs about chicken lips, salamander thighs, and nutty professors; they whisper and yell about cows at the bottom and top of their lungs; they march around the room like an Emperor with no clothes on (just pretending, of course). You know, all the regular stuff. Oh, and they have lots of fun. Robbie is an expert at introducing young children to the fundamentals of music: how to keep singing through a fit of laughter; how to invent nonsense rhymes; how to love this essential part of a full life. He calls it “Songs For Kids Like Us”, and come to think of it, he has always seemed a bit young for his age.

Robbie Schaefer’s first full-length cd for children, “Songs for Kids Like Us”, was released in May 2006. To listen, and for news and info, go to:

www.songsforkidslikeus.com

“We LOVE the new cd! . . . it’s perfect for XMKiDS!”

Mindy Hohmann,
DJ and Music Director, XMKiDS Satellite Radio

“ . . . here is an artist who finds no need to 'dumb down' music for the small people and who can bridge both accessibility and age-appropriate content with solid, well-written, thoughtfully-conceived songs built on real instruments, "normal" singing voices and backed by an enthusiastic choir of kids. Largely based on folk, Robbie Schaefer's style is both fun and silly but at its heart, is driven by quality and integrity.”

Tamara Turner, CDBaby

“ . . . Songs For Kids Like Us is a nicely thought-out and well-executed debut that makes me hope that Schaefer hasn't exhausted his immaturity just yet. Recommended.”

Zooglobber.com

“This is a remarkable album. Certainly the Best Children’s CD Ever. Robbie is also an extremely handsome boy.”

Robbie’s Mom